H. A. PERKINS, Owner.

Miss Leona Chase, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Osborn, on South Palmetto avenue.

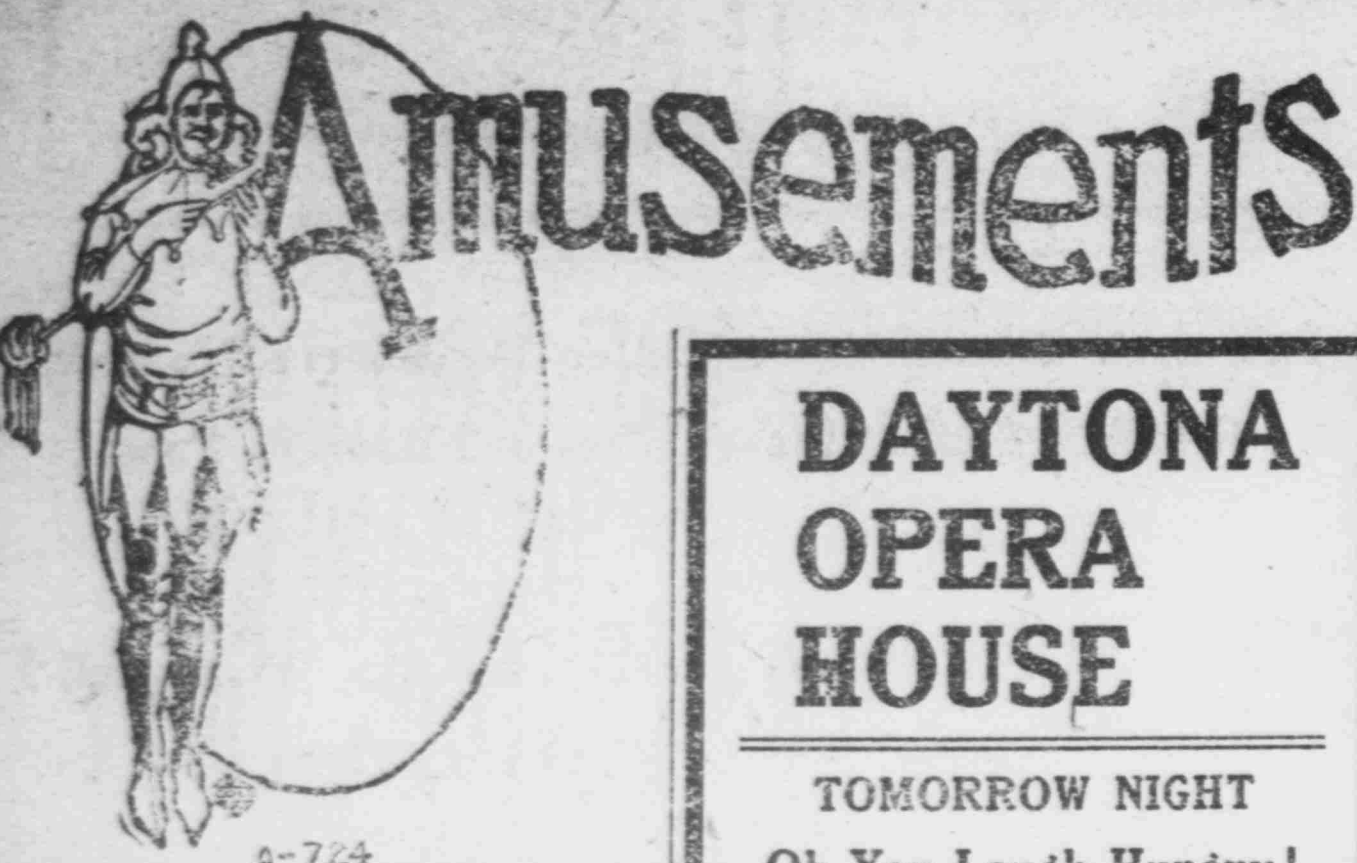

Mrs. Atkinson and daughter, of Illinois, arrived Friday and are pleasantly located at the Miller apartment on South Palmetto avenue.

The post office, the Merchants Bank and the city schools observe today as legal holiday. Otherwise the business wheels went round and round as usual. There are numerous and brilliant entertainments in hotel and private circles planned for the evening. The weather is ideal, and Daytona has been well nigh emptied of her visitors for the nonce, who have taken advantage of the sunshine and opportunity to make some one of the delightful out of door trips for the day.

The Volusia avenue dock presented an animated picture this morning just before the two boats started out. The handsome Cherokee was bound for the Tomoka, and pulled out with about seventy-five passengers. The Dixie is being used as a ferry boat to accommodate the large crowds who go to the beach, and was also well filled with grown-ups and children, bound for a day on the beautiful beach, and at least a dip in the invigorating surf.

Work has been resumed on the causeway to the city library, and it is to be hoped there will be no further delay in completion. In spite of the present inconvenience of reaching the library, it is getting a large patronage from the visitors. It is interesting to watch the constant stream of people who come in to exchange books, and the chairs at the periodical table are usually all occupied. In another year, with the completion of the causeway, and with the improvements contemplated, made on the City Island, what a beautiful outlook there will be from Beach street to the library and its environs.
